Council To Pay $1,000 For Rink Use This Year; Hospital Grant $3,000

Grants approved in a by-law passed Monday night by Newmarket town council were:

York County hospital $3,000, Newmarket Public Library board $1,400, Newmarket Horticultural Society $100, Citizen-Soldier club $300, Fire Brigade $600, Tennis club $50, Juvenile Ball club $25.

The hospital grant includes the usual annual $1,000 for maintenance increased by $2,000 for the special building fund.

When the amount for the building was questioned, Councillor Joseph Vale pointed out that York county had donated $10,000.

The grant to the library board was an increase of $200 over last year's grant. "We were asked for a larger grant last year and didn't give it. The library needs the grant because the cost of books has gone away up," said Councillor Vale.

The grant for the Horticultural Society was unanimously approved. Other grants were the same as in other years.

A request from Newmarket Citizens' Band for $600 was set aside for further consideration.

Councillor Wm. Dixon suggested giving the band $300 since it had not been operating for the past two years.

"Why not put $600 in trust for the band?" asked Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "Or, we could pass this grant and then give the band what it needs."

"Once the by-law is passed that amount must be issued," declared Clerk and Solicitor Norman L. Mathews.

"Why should we give the band that large a surplus when it was not in operation until three weeks ago?" inquired Councillor Dixon.

By-laws were passed to provide for nomination on Nov. 24, of mayor, reeve, deputy-reeve, six councillors, three public school trustees for 1945, and voting, if necessary, on Dec. 4, 1944, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. A by-law was also passed to provide for submission to the electors of the corporation qualified to vote on by-laws, the question: "Are you in favor of obtaining power from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario?" on the same day.

R. H. B. Hector was appointed auditor of new accounts for Newmarket public, high and separate schools, and the public library. His fees were placed at $500 per year and travel expenses not exceeding $50 per year.

COUNCIL BUSINESS

A letter from the chief municipal engineer of the Hydro Electric Power Commission stating that Newmarket council's request for a postponement of the vote for a power commission until the end of next year was under consideration, was read to council Monday night.

On a motion from Councillor Joseph Vale, seconded by Councillor Frank Bowser, council voted to provide car expenses up to $30 a month for Miss Jessie Smith, Reg. N., town health nurse.

Council agreed to let the Newmarket C.C.F. club use the rooms in the rear of the council chamber for the club's monthly meeting in reply to a request made on behalf of the club by Orville Ganton. Council decided that such groups could not use the council chamber proper because demands for its use could become too heavy.

The council voted unanimously to lay a wreath on the cenotaph and to attend as a body the Newmarket Veterans' Association Memorial service at the cenotaph next Sunday.

Newmarket council agreed to pay rent of $1,000 for the use of the Newmarket Arena until May 31 at Monday night's meeting. Town Clerk and Solicitor Norman L. Mathews presented the lease to the council and it was passed.

Asked if the Newmarket Arena Co. had agreed to the lease, Mr. Mathews replied that the company had not yet seen the lease but had approved of the terms in general, terms which had previously been arranged with the company.

"Why are we paying $1,000 rent for the arena just until the end of May?" asked Councillor Joel Spillette.

"We'll own the arena before then," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "We could have had that lease extended until September but we are only allowed to operate the arena this winter providing we purchase it when our bill comes up before the legislature."

Two applications for the management of Newmarket Arena were placed before the council. Following discussion of the applicants in committee, the matter was set aside pending further action.

The pro tem committee which has been handling the arena affairs for the past three weeks received an addition in the person of Reeve Fred Lundy. Committee personnel includes Mayor Dales, Reeve Lundy and Councillors Joel Spillette, Frank Bowser and A. V. Higginson.

Councillor Spillette said that he couldn't see any better way of handling the arena than to have the mayor name a permanent committee. "Call it a sports committee or anything you like," he said.

"Why not let the pro tem committee carry on until the end of the term of this council?" asked Reeve Lundy.

"We may as well get a permanent committee into action," said Mayor Dales.

"Are you not having outside assistance on this committee?" asked Councillor William Dixon.

"Yes. When the permanent committee is established, it will include citizens who are not members of this council," said Mayor Dales.

Council agreed that the pro tem committee would continue until the end of the council's term and that the formation of a permanent committee will be left until after the elections.

Cigarets Cost 58 Cents For 20 In England

"I received 300 cigarets from the Vets today," Rfn. G. T. Blencowe writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "They were post-marked Aug. 11 but the reason they were so slow in catching me is my change of address.

"I left the Q.O.R. about Aug. 12 and they had to go through records to find me. I have been re-boarded since then and have a lower category so it is unlikely I shall go back so perhaps my address will remain the same long enough for all my back mail to catch up. As it happened, your cigarets were among the first of my mail to come through so they are especially welcome. English cigarets at 1s 6d for 20 in canteens for forces and 2s 4d in civilian stores are quite expensive."

"This time I have to thank you for two lots of cigarets which I received today," P.O. George Phimister writes the Veterans. "Have been on two weeks leave and have made a couple of moves lately which may account for the two parcels arriving at the same time. I certainly appreciate the efforts of the Veterans' Association to keep us supplied with cigarets and if you ask me they are doing a good job. Guess you will be happy when it is over and you can forget fags for a while!

"The war seems to be going very well these days and if it winds up in the next month I'm afraid I won't get my two cents worth in, at least not in this theatre."

"Once again I take pleasure in writing a few lines to you and the members of the Veterans' Association for sending another parcel of cigarets which I appreciate a great deal," writes S.P.O. Wm. B. Johnston. "I've been back off leave for three weeks now and am sorry that I was unable to call around to see you and thank you personally. When I got back aboard my ship I picked up my petty officer's rating, which gives me a few more privileges and a little more pay, which isn't hard to take."

"Thanks kindly for your gift of smokes which has just been received," Gnr. H. A. Belfry writes the Veterans. "At present we are stationed on the Adriatic coast near Rimini and have just come out of action and everyone is enjoying a well-earned rest. There is a fine beach which extends for miles and also hotels which are used for billets, so we are quite comfortable."

Cards of appreciation have been received by the Veterans from Pte. J. O. Watson, L.-Cpl. Roy Bennett, Pte. J. S. Codlin and Pte. J. R. Blencowe.

REPORTED MISSING

Word was received Tuesday that Flt. Sgt. D. Eugene Burrows has been reported missing following air operations over enemy territory. Flt. Sgt. Burrows lived on Pearson St. with his grandmother and aunt, Miss Sadie Burrows. He joined the R.C.A.F. in April, 1943, receiving his air gunner's wing at Mont Joli, Que., in November of the same year. He arrived in England just before Christmas of 1943. His father, Flt. Sgt. E. G. Burrows, is stationed at Centralia, Ont.

ROSCOE MILLER VISITS UNCLE IN ENGLAND

In a letter to his sister, Mrs. Everett Miller, Newmarket, Arthur Baker, England, tells of a visit from Mrs. Miller's son, Pte. Roscoe Miller, who is stationed in England.

Mr. Baker goes on to say: "Roscoe thinks the life over here quite different from home. Our homes are not as free as your homes. We get 21 coupons over here a year to buy clothes, towels, socks, vests, shirts, boots, etc. It is very hard to buy pots and pans or anything much for the home.

"We get two ounces of butter, two ounces of tea, half a pound of sugar, half a pound of margarine, two ounces of fat, a small piece of cheese, a quarter pound of bacon. Biscuits are on points. One gets 24 points a month to buy a tin of fish, beans, peas and any other odds and ends we can buy.

"We all have coupons for candy. We are allowed 30 cents worth of meat a week and fish."

Civilians Buried In Homes Is Awful Sight, Soldier

"Just a few lines in hopes this will find you as well as it is leaving me at present," Sgt. Vic Bridges writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "I wish to thank the club for the cigarets they have sent me. I received them O.K. Don't know what we would do if it were not for you people over there sending us smokes. They are always appreciated.

"News here is much the same. I am still on the inspector job. Have four factories to look after that are doing Canadian tanks so it keeps me busy, but it looks as though we will soon be through and wound up as far as tanks are concerned.

"The weather here has turned bad. It rains all the time. Days of sunshine are gone, now it is rain and fog. And that is not very nice when you have these flying bombs coming across and don't know where they will land. I am living right in the bomb area, or as we say here, Bomb Alley. Only last week I helped to get some people out of the ruins. Some were dead, others seriously hurt. It is an awful sight to see civilians buried in their own homes and maybe only a leaning two by four scantling saving their lives. One miss-step and you bury them right up."

"At last I have found time to drop you a few lines to thank you for the cigarets you boys at home have sent me," Pte. N. L. Park writes the Veterans. "They were much appreciated and they always come in just the right time. I hope to be home before long to thank you myself.

"How are things going at the old town? Are there many changes yet? You should see some of the towns over here now. They sure are flat. I am on the Holland border now and we are in a pretty hot spot. I don't see any of the Newmarket boys at all. The closest is one fellow from Barrie. Grant Crowder is about a mile from me but it's too hot to go running around much, especially after dark."

"We are hoping to be with you in the near future," L.S. D. H. Blair writes in a note of appreciation to the Veterans. "I haven't a great deal of news."

"The news from all fronts is so encouraging that it leads one to hope to be able to thank you all in person before long," Cnl. J. F. Morrow writes the Veterans.

Camp 214 Percent Over $45,000 Quota; Town 89 Percent

District objective, $2,400,000; sales, $1,936,800. Newmarket objective, $350,000; sales, $311,900.

As of today, figures for the camp are: 214 percent over objective of $45,000; 99⅓ percent of the camp personnel has applied for bonds; 709 contracts have been made totalling $96,300. Last loan, the camp made 203 percent of its objective.

Victory Loan officials in town expressed concern over Newmarket's showing. "Every effort must be made in next two days to ensure the town going over the top," H. L. Trapp, district organizer, said today.

With three days to go, Newmarket is within 89 percent of its objective.

Greet Soldiers With Flowers, Wine, Kisses

"Another carton of cigarets has reached me after a long chase through the postal corps," Lieut. G. R. Foster writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "They always arrive, however, and quite regularly too. I'm most sincerely appreciative of your generous kindness in this. I would like to congratulate you in your tireless effort to keep in touch with so many from Newmarket. I follow their activities through the Newmarket Era and Express.

"One morning not long ago we packed up and left sunny France for somewhere in Belgium nearly 350 miles distant. It was an exciting adventure to be on the move again and the boys have more tales of this three-day trip than I could begin to mention. We slept in the open and lived on compo rations which were cooked by one of the six in each lorrie. During daylight the weather was excellent but it rained each night which caused some fast scrambling for the back of lorries.

"Along the road we passed a great many burned out German lorries and abandoned guns. Many places had been bombed heavily, and it was not yet safe to leave the roads for more than eight feet on each side because of mines. Near the river Orne we saw large numbers of our gliders, nearly all damaged, where the paratroops landed on D-day and held out until the Normandy bridgehead was extended to include them.

"We passed through many of the places made famous in the last war such as Liseaux, Rouen, Arras, Amiens and Cambrai. As we rode through Brussels the people came out to give the boys the most enthusiastic welcome they have ever witnessed. The Belgians are even more hospitable to the Allies than the French, and still shower them with flowers, wine and kisses. Flags were flying and large posters printed in English expressing their thanks by saying 'Honor and Glory to our Liberators,' were in every window. We forgot fatigue!

"Life is more normal here than one would expect to find after five years of war. The people are well dressed and have enough food although it is very expensive. The scarcity of cigarets and chocolate helps to encourage black marketing. We have been able to buy fruit and even ice cream. The shops have well dressed windows but closer examination reveals a great deal of ersatz material. The exchange rate of 176 5/8 Belgian francs to the pound is almost a prohibitive barrier to much buying.

"We shall be really happy, however, when we can do our buying and travelling too, at home. I visited the place where Capt. Jack Patterson won the M.C. a few weeks ago. I may see him soon."

Snappy entertainment and Victory Loan features, including a draw for $600 in Victory bonds made by radio's prima donna, Evelyn Knight, packed 3,500 people into the drill hall of Newmarket military camp on Tuesday evening for the Lions club Victory Revue.

A large part of the entertainment was presented by Massey-Harris Combines, a troupe of 14 artists who, until the present Victory Loan, have played to soldier audiences exclusively. A pianist, dancers, singers, chorus routines appeared, accompanied by the troupe's orchestra.

Pte. Bob McElroy was presented with a plaque as the person who had made the greatest contribution to the Victory Loan effort. The presentation was made by Harry Lambert.

Victory Loan speaker of the evening was Capt. N. A. Healey, padre of Newmarket military camp.

At the end of the program, radio songstress Evelyn Knight sang three numbers, then assisted Lions club president Herman E. Gilroy in making the draw for 12 lucky winners of $50 Victory bonds.

The winners were:

Lauder Gloss, Richmond Hill; Cpl. Brown, Newmarket military camp; Miss Florence Sweet, Toronto; R. Mathews, Langstaff; Mrs. Arthur Ainsley, Newmarket; R. Thompson, Elgin Mills; Barbara Lindenbaum, Newmarket; Keith Mayhew, R. R. 2, Maple; Carl Rupke, Aurorveld; A. Armstrong, Richmond Hill; R. W. Jelley, Newmarket; D. Woodrow, Sutton West.

Bomb Nazis With Passes Urging Them To Desert

A souvenir in the form of a safe conduct pass into Allied lines was recently received by Mrs. W. H. Wilmot, Sharon, in a letter from Bdr. E. G. Jeffery, in Holland. Bdr. Jeffery is a former resident of Sharon.

The pass is printed on red bank note paper. On the top of the pass are the emblems of Great Britain and U.S.A. Below the coats of arms is printed in large letters, "Safe Conduct." An English text follows: "The German soldier who carries this safe-conduct is using it as a sign of his genuine intention to give himself up. He is to be disarmed, to be well looked after, to receive food and medical attention as required, and is to be removed from the danger zone as soon as possible.

Below the English text is the equivalent in German. On the other side there is what appears to be a copy of the Geneva Convention regarding the treatment of prisoners of war.

In his letter, Bdr. Jeffery says that these passes are fired into the German lines in the hopes of persuading unenthusiastic Nazis to surrender now and get away from it all.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1944

IS IT 'OVER THE TOP?'

Newmarket has not yet reached its objective. As we go to press, there is only today, tomorrow and Saturday left in which to buy bonds in the Seventh Victory Loan campaign.

Sons and brothers and husbands in Newmarket have already paid heavily in this war. They have given freely of their blood and their lives that we at home might continue to enjoy the freedom that is our heritage. We at home should welcome any chance to acknowledge that debt.

So what are we going to do in these three remaining days? Are we going to hope that we will reach our objective, are we going to leave it for someone else to pay our debt? Or are we going to get out and make sure that Newmarket will go over the top?

AN OFFER TO CANDIDATES

The Era and Express opens its columns to all candidates in the forthcoming municipal elections in both Newmarket and Aurora in the belief that the candidates should be given every opportunity to lay their platforms and principles before the voters.

The offer is made under the following conditions: each candidate is limited to 900 words. All copy must be signed by the candidate submitting it. Copy must be in the hands of the editor by Monday noon of the week in which it is to be published. All copy will be subject to the laws of libel and slander and newspaper style.

On our part, we will hold all copy as confidential until it has appeared in print. No favoritism will be shown to any one candidate. We will feel free to comment on the opinions of the candidates and it must be understood that the appearance of a candidate's platform in The Era and Express does not carry an implied, or otherwise, endorsement by The Era and Express of that candidate's opinion.

GIVE YOUR BLOOD

(Mrs. G. E. Case)

The unwarranted feeling of optimism that seized the nation when the Allied armies swept into Belgium and Holland has had a disastrous effect on the number of contributors at blood donor clinics. Due to this home front feeling that the fighting was about over, and to heavy shipments overseas of blood plasma as a result of increased casualties, the Canadian blood bank is at its lowest ebb. The fighting is not over. The port of Antwerp and the Scheldt estuary have been won at a heavy cost in blood.

Statistics show that whereas 18 out of 100 wounded died in hospital in the last war, only three out of 100 die in this war. Blood plasma has reduced the number of deaths due to shock. It would be a disaster of the greatest magnitude if our wounded should die because of insufficient supplies of blood plasma.

Contributions of blood in this district have been splendid but the need is greater than ever before. Every healthy adult should see to it that his or her blood is over there restoring life and health to the boys who have kept this Canada of ours free.

Won't you consider this question seriously and register for the next clinic Nov. 24? Phone 250 or go to the town clerk's office and leave your name.

AURORA COUNCIL ACTS

A long felt need is in a fair way to being answered in Aurora. Aurora council has voted unanimously to initiate the proper procedure for obtaining the services of a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada as a town nurse.

The emphasis given by the unanimous vote of the council has begun an action which, if given the full support of the citizens of Aurora, will reach a successful conclusion.

PROTECT YOUR VOTE

Recognition of his right to vote as he wishes is one of the greatest advances ever made by man; paradoxically, it is treated with the least respect.

So that there will be no mistakes in the voters' lists, so that every citizen may see for himself whether he is correctly listed as a voter, the lists are placed in the post office and municipal office for inspection by the public.

Every citizen is asked to inspect the list and make sure he is correctly listed. Nov. 16 is the deadline for changes.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

BIRDS

Up to the other day I always thought of birds as being a source of joy to us through their beauty, their song and the wonder of their migratory powers and instincts.

But it seems I left out something very important—their inspiration to the discoverers of aeronautics. I heard, or read, that the Wright brothers would lie on their backs in the fields for hours watching the birds take off and land. The villagers thought they were mad, but instead they were getting a little nearer one of earth's wonders —the flight of a bird.

For years I have fed them and had water in bath and pool for them and watched each year for the summer birds' hail and farewell and the winter birds' return.

It's always a joy to see a new one and to welcome back the ones which year after year carpet the lawn at feeding time and make the crisp cold air cheerful with their twitterings and bickerings.

All this added up to a real thrill when I heard that Mrs. Williams of Aurora was to speak to us on birds at our Institute meeting—our joint meeting in Newmarket.

Mrs. Williams said that bird study was primarily a matter of keeping eyes and ears open. The marsh was a great place to study bird life but along every little stream and pond many of the water birds can be found.

One of the best places, said she, is Newmarket's own Andrew St, where the stream comes into town. Here, she said, many lovely water birds, some rare, can be seen for the going there. She thought this strip of land should be made a parkway and to it would come bird lovers who at present are rather daunted by its wildness.

At the marsh the migratory period begins in August when many shore birds go south. Around ponds and streams as well as near the marshes and rivers killdeer, solitary sandpipers, green and blue heron, bittern and Virginia rail are to be found—if you have eyes to see.

No one has ever fathomed the migratory urge and the use by the birds of regular flyways. Some birds fly north via one flyway and south by another. Why? That is the wonderful secret of the birds and mother nature. The Arctic Tern covers 22,000 miles in early spring then goes north and back south by a different route.

One likes to think that maybe these little—and big—travellers have seeing eyes and like a change of scenery—maybe they have guides and make a sort of Cook's tour of migration. No doubt Mrs. Williams and others steeped in bird lore will laugh at this—but that's what comes of having an unruly imagination—it steps in where authorities fear to tread.

For the sparrows Mrs. Williams expressed great admiration—so many species, all charming—even the hardy English sparrow enlivens a drab winter day.

The white throat sings O Canada, Canada, Canada.

The warblers, who come the middle of May, are not singers but are gay and colorful.

She spoke of the birds of what I would call the underworld—the killers and gangsters—the shrike which catches little birds and sticks them on thorns to eat at leisure; the crows and starlings that steal and the cowbird which lays her eggs in other birds' nests and then, responsibilty forgotten, departs for paths unknown—leaving some small bird either to hatch out this alien, thus depriving her own young of space and food, or do as one bird did and of this piece of work she showed us a photograph.

It showed a small bird's nest with its own eggs and a cowbird's egg. Over this the small bird built a platform, laid her eggs and here again a cowbird followed suit. This process was repeated five times—then the small bird abandoned the whole structure.

The great white Arctic owl only comes south when drawn by lack of food. The horned grebe and the grosbeaks are coming south now and this is the migratory time for the hawks.

The juncos are here now and soon the woodpeckers—hairy, downy, red-headed—the chickadees and the other little winter-feathered folk will be examining the branches of the trees for their store of suet and the pheasants and jays and ground birds will be watching for their crumbs and grain.

I have one particular ambition in regard to bird life which I hope may some day be realized—to hear a hermit thrush. Five kinds of thrushes come to our area but the hermit thrush keeps to itself. Like a spirit it sings its ethereal, exquisite, not of this earth song, and those who have been permitted to hear its song have a very lovely memory to store where memories live forever.

Mrs. Williams' talk gave us an incentive—an added one in some cases—to make friends with our feathered neighbors. They will more than repay any kindness shown them.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY ON NARCOTIC CHARGES

After several weeks of postponement, the case of Miss Bina Beatrice Hamilton, assistant superintendent of York County hospital, came before Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in magistrate's court here Friday. The defendant was charged with unlawfully having a quantity of morphine without the authority of a license from the minister of national health, to which she pleaded guilty; with unlawfuly having diacetalmorphine, to which she pleaded not guilty; with stealing a quantity of narcotics of a value over $25, the property of York County hospital, to which she pleaded guilty.

On each charge his worship sentenced the accused woman to six months in prison, the terms to be concurrent. In addition she was fined the sum of $200 on each of the first two charges, with an alternative in each case of six months in jail.

N. L. Mathews, special prosecutor for the department of national health, told Magistrate Woodliffe that the crown intended to proceed by indictment. The defence elected to be tried by his worship rather than by judge and jury.

Proceeding first with the charge against Miss Hamilton of illegal possession of diacetalmorphine, to which she had pleaded not guilty, Constable Thomas Greenfield, a druggist on the narcotic squad of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was called to the stand.

"As a result of information received I proceeded to York County hospital on Sept. 18," testified the witness. "I was accompanied by Constables Carson and Cubitt, both of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. I went there to investigate a shortage of drugs. I made a search of the room of the accused. Her room was situated in the nurses' residence which is separate from the hospital. Miss Hill, the superintendent of the hospital, was present during the search. In Miss Hamilton's room I found various bottles which I seized and placed in a container. Among the objects seized was a bottle marked H3D. This was a green bottle containing a few drops of liquid. I took it to Toronto and handed it to Constable Cubitt. It was taken to the dominion analyst. The certificate of analysis shows that a sample of the content was diacetalmorphine heroin.

"In the room I also found six other vials," continued the officer. In each vial he stated that there were only traces of powders which when analysed were found to be diacetalmorphine.

Cross-examined by the defence counsel, the witness stated that Miss Hamilton said that she had merely been collecting these bottles.

Despite the argument of the defendant's counsel, Magistrate Woodliffe ruled that there was enough evidence against Miss Hamilton to warrant a defence. Her solicitor refused, put her in the box and his worship handed down a conviction on the having morphine charge.

Returning to the stand to give evidence in the other two charges, Constable Greenfield stated: "On Sept. 18 I went to York County hospital to investigate the shortage of narcotics which was reported by the auditor. When I went to the hospital I was accompanied by Constables Carson and Cubitt. I interrogated the accused in the x-ray room. I asked her to turn out the pockets of her uniform. She did so. There was a syringe, two bottles, and some tablets wrapped in tissue. I asked her what it was and at first she said that it was adrenalin which she used for her nose condition. When I told her that I was going to have it analysed she said that it was morphine which she took from the hospital."

Questioned by Mr. Mathews, the officer stated that the analyst's report showed that the drugs were morphine. He added that Miss Hamilton made a statement in which she said she had handed over to the police the syringe and bottles containing a solution of morphine. Also in the statement she said that she had been in charge of the drug cabinet at the hospital and had taken the morphine for her own use but denied that she was entirely to blame for the disappearance of the narcotics. She stated that another nurse who had since left the hospital had also taken some. She said she had not used any drugs since February, 1942, until six or seven months ago. She blamed worries and hard work for her use of the drugs.

Constable Greenfield said that a search of the defendant's room produced a quantity of morphine and codeine.

Questioned as to the amount of narcotics shown missing from the hospital as indicated by the auditor's report, the officer stated that from Jan. 1, 1944, to Aug. 1, 1944, there were 9,407 tablets with a wholesale value of $150 missing and from the period of Aug. 18 to Sept. 1, 534 tablets with a wholesale value of $10 were missing. He stated that the drugs were kept in a safe for which there were two keys. One of these keys was kept in the possession of Miss Hill and the other by Miss Hamilton, he said. The witness stated that there is a shortage of narcotics at present due to the need of the armies overseas.

Called by her counsel to the stand, Miss Hamilton admitted taking a small amount of morphine from the hospital but denied taking the entire amount which was reported missing. She said that she had not had the key to the cabinet in her possession the entire time that she had been with the hospital. There had been some drugs missing, she said, and it was believed that another nurse had taken some.

"You are not suggesting that Miss Hill took any of the drugs are you?" queried Mr. Mathews.

"Absolutely not," replied Miss Hamilton.

"Did you know that from Jan. 1 the shortage was more than the amount of drugs used by the hospital?" "No, I did not."

"I have known the accused woman for four years," testified Dr. C. J. Devins, Aurora, president-elect of the Ontario Medical Association, who was called by the defence as character witness. "I was astounded to hear about this. I knew her at Dr. Boland's office and at York County hospital. She is one of the most efficient nurses and has certainly done some excellent work. She did three x-rays for me which were very well done. As a technician I don't think that there is any better in the province.

"She never failed to be on hand to help whether she was on duty or off. What surprised me most was that she was so dependable. I never thought that she took drugs. Most people who are addicted are undependable. She is very highly regarded by all the doctors and nurses. I have here a petition signed by the doctors as to her efficiency. I know that she has had considerable trouble with her legs. She had had an operation and complained of pain. She is a heavy woman and a hard worker. I'd ask your worship to be lenient with her. The girl is worth trying to save."

"I've no authority to send her to a place of cure," said Magistrate Woodliffe. "But if you send a deputation down on her behalf she may be sent to some hospital."

Dr. Fletcher of the Ontario Hospital, Toronto, told his worship that he had treated Miss Hamilton since Sept. 20. He said he found her to be an intelligent and highly trained technician. To his knowledge, he testified, with the exception of an aspirin and one injection of codeine, she has had no drugs since she has been under his care.

Asked how long the defendant has been addicted, the doctor stated that she had been taking drugs for about four years. She had stopped using them after she had left Brockville and started again when she came to Newmarket, he said.

Miss Hamilton's sister appeared on the stand and told his worship that the defendant had been on the staff of the Brockville Memorial hospital for 19 years, that she had worked hard all her life and had had little social amusement.

"I have known the family for over 40 years," stated Mr. Johnston, an insurance broker. "I did not know she had taken drugs. It seems to me that she is just paying the price of being too conscientious."

"I have not been long in the criminal courts but I have had a very wide experience and this is the worst and most tragic experience of my life," commented the counsel for the defence. "The defendant was a hard worker. She never spared herself. She has hurt no one but herself. She had no social life or amusement. Now at the age of 43 when most woman look forward to a quiet life at home she had nothing to look forward to. I ask your worship to be merciful and to do all in your power to help build up her life. I ask you to give her the minimum penalty."

"I agree with the defence that the accused has a very good reputation and heretofore has been an excellent nurse with the exception of her indulgence in narcotics," stated Mr. Mathews.

In handing down judgment his worship told Miss Hamilton: "This is a very serious case. I can take into consideration that you are a sick person, a person requiring medical attention. On the theft charge there is no doubt but that you did not keep a correct record or report losses to the proper authorities. No doubt you are not responsible for all the shortage but you are responsible for the amount of drugs found in your possession. I presume the drugs you stole were for your own use."

Found guilty on a charge of illegal possession of liquor, E. M. Willis, R. R. 1, Gormley, was fined $100 and costs or one month in jail. His worship ordered the liquor found on the premises confiscated. A similar charge against Mrs. Olive Simmons, Aurora, who was jointly charged with Mr. Willis, was dismissed. A charge of keeping liquor for sale against both Mr. Willis and Mrs. Simmons was withdrawn with the consent of the crown.

According to Detective Robert Martindale of the York county police, he had visited the home of Mrs. Simmons in Aurora at 9.45 p.m. on the night of Oct. 21 at which time a party was in progress. Upon searching the premises, he said, he found 19 quarts and 1½ pints of ale, one bottle of whiskey, one part bottle of brandy and five bottles of wine. He stated that both defendants admitted ownership of the liquor.

Constable Martindale stated that he examined the defendant's permits and found Mrs. Simmons' to be registered with her Aurora address. Mr. Willis' was registered with another address. He said that he was living at Mrs. Simmons' house.

At the request of the crown Magistrate Woodliffe declared the premises of Mrs. Simmons a public place.

"I am doing this for the purpose of preventing you from having liquor at your place for the next year," stated his worship. "If you do it can be seized and you can be brought into court."

In Memoriam

Fairbarn—In loving memory of my dear father, George Fairbarn, who passed away Nov. 5, 1930, and my dear mother, Isabella Fairbarn, who passed away Nov. 10, 1940.

Sunshine fades and shadows fall,
But sweet remembrance outlasts all.

Lovingly remembered by their daughter, Rosa.

Lepard—In loving memory of my dear husband, Charles A. Lepard, who passed away Nov. 10, 1943.

O God what a weight of sorrow
Must I, the lonely one, bear;
A lonely home, a silent voice,
And only his vacant chair.

Ever remembered by his wife.

Micks—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. George Micks, who departed this life Nov. 9, 1940.

There's a face that is haunting us ever,
There's a voice that we're longing to hear,
There's a smile that we'll remember forever
Though we try to forget every tear.
There's a sad, but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true,
There's a token of affection, dear
And heartache dear mother, for you.

Sadly missed by daughters, Edna and Nina.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. R. Cowleson, the boys and their wives wish to thank their many friends for their kind sympathy and beautiful floral tributes during their sudden and sad bereavement.

Alex. Campbell Third Grad To Wear D.F.C.

Third graduate of Aurora high school to be awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross is Flt.-Lieut. Alex Campbell, whose mother, Mrs. Ella Campbell, resides at Humber Bay, Ont.

Flt.-Lieut. Campbell was born at King City and attended Aurora high school where he was prominent in basketball, track and hockey. He enlisted in March, 1942, and went overseas in August, 1943.

A few months ago he was on the last flight of his first tour of duty over enemy territory with Stuttgart the target. German fighter planes intercepted the bomber squadron and Flt.-Lieut. Campbell's plane took fire. He stayed with the burning plane until all the crew had bailed out and then took to the air himself in the nick of time for safety.

He was reported missing for some weeks, but along with all but one member of his crew made his way safely to the Allied lines through enemy held territory. Last month the 21-year-old officer returned to Canada. The last week in October he was married to Hazel Morrison, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), Brantford.

Principal J. H. Knowles hopes that Flt.-Lieut. Campbell will pay a visit to the old school before returning overseas. The week previous Flt.-Lieut. John Perry received a similar award and previous to that the late Wing Commander Lloyd V. Chadburn.

Education In True Sense Must Prevail, Dean Says

Aurora school officials, teachers and students observed education week, being held throughout Ontario this week, with a special service on Sunday evening at Aurora United church.

Agnes Hill, president of the high school literary society, gave the opening prayer and read the announcements. George Stone, the society's vice-president, gave the Psalm reading. Principal J. H. Knowles explained the purpose of education week and introduced the guest speaker, Dean A. C. Lewis of the Ontario College of Education. Rev. Roy Hicks, the pastor, assisted in the service.

Terming life "a long series of educational experiences," Mr. Lewis outlined the part the home, the school and church must play to bring about a well rounded out life.

"At the end of the last war, we regarded the problem as a race between education or catastrophe, if future war were to be averted," Mr. Lewis declared. "We have learned all too dearly that education must be something more than mere brains."

Mr. Lewis traced the rise of Hitler, told how science had rolled back further the horizons of learning and how Russia had conquered illiteracy but yet had had the foresight to prepare for war. Propaganda, which he termed "the systematic attitude of an individual or individuals to control the attitude of others through suggestion," had been allowed to do more than education. Hitler had used propaganda first in his own country, and then lulled other nations to a false sense of security by skilful use of it.

Education he termed as "placing facts and discoveries before people without controlling their actions." He illustrated how even the simplest educational exercises in Germany had a military background to them. Teachers who refused to teach the new order had been banished or killed. The same system was used in the conquered nations. In Norway, 12,000 teachers out of 14,000 refused to bend their will to the Gestapo. "I doubt not but that the teachers of this country would have done the same and we are only fortunate it wasn't here," he said.

"Read Mein Kampf, and then, as an antidote, read the Bible," Mr. Lewis said. "Its timeliness will surprise you." He warned that we were not fighting Hitler alone, but the German way of life, which was based now on killing the sources of truth. That fact must be considered when peace is being determined.

"Astronomers say we can live for 1,000,000 years on the earth, but not unless our way of living is changed. If the old way prevails we will eventually exterminate the human race. Don't leave the problem to the young people to solve alone. We all have our part to play. Only by a search for truth and seeing that education in its true sense prevails can we succeed in the future."

BILLY McGHEE WAS TALENTED MUSICIAN

The death occurred on Sunday at St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, of William ("Billy") McGhee, Centre St., one of Aurora's best known residents.

Rev. G. O. Lightbourn Speaks, Visits Parents Of Aurorans Overseas

After an absence of over three years, Group Capt. the Rev. Gilbert O. Lightbourn returned for a few brief hours to his former parish, Trinity Anglican church, "the little church which I love," last Sunday.

Capt. Lightbourn, who enlisted in 1940 and has been overseas three years, arrived in Canada on Friday for a brief holiday and one of his first wishes was to revisit his former parish. Despite the fact that his coming was not known until late Saturday, the church was filled to capacity with many from other congregations joining to welcome the padre.

Capt. Lightbourn paid tribute to the service record of Aurora men and women and of his own church in particular, seven boys from Trinity having paid the supreme sacrifice. He paid tribute to the work of his successor, Capt. the Rev. Keith Perdue, whom he had met overseas on several occasions and "who is doing a splendid job."

Capt. Lightbourn said he had often thought of Aurora while on duty and he knew those at home had thought of him.

"Your prayers strengthened me," he said.

He chose as his text, "And of His kingdom there shall be no end," from the Gospel according to St. Luke.

"The world is full of change," he said. "We see that more overseas than you do here." He told of his experiences in bombed London, and the south of England and of a visit he had made to Caen, and the towns of Normandy. War was of necessity largely destructive, but he felt that there had been a spiritual reawakening.

"One of the duties of R.C.A.F. padres is to visit outgoing bomber and fighter squadrons before they left their bases," he said. "One padre had said to the crew, 'I really don't know what to say.' And one of the crew replied, 'Padre, you don't need to say anything. We all know what your presence stands for'."

An R.C.A.F. pilot had told him, "I always look up before I leave," and Capt. Lightbourn felt that "looking upward" might well be something everyone did before undertaking any of their daily tasks no matter how humble.

In Caen, he said he had seen ruin and destruction and recalled seeing a young girl standing on a doorstep of her ruined home, the picture of dejection, but who still looked to the future and smiled, raising her hand in the V for victory salute, the hope for the future that had encouraged those in occupied countries to carry on. He told of talking with high Free French leaders and of their problems.

"The first thing we need in planning for the future is a reawakening to the sovereignty of God," he said. "This is the firm basis needed before we start solving other problems. This time people do not expect the end of the war will bring an end to all our problems as people did after the last war. The post-war problems are great, but can only be solved by a realization of the enormity of the tasks ahead, and by our willingness to take part in them and assume our responsibilities."

Rev. Canon F. J. Fife assisted with the service. In the afternoon Capt. Lightbourn took the service for the St. Andrew's College Cadet Corps, who paraded nearly 100 strong from the college to the church for divine service. Capt. Lightbourn is an old boy of the school. Headmaster J. C. Garratt read the lesson, and Canon F. J. Fife also took part in the service.

Capt. Lightbourn spent the balance of the day calling on parents of Aurora boys he met overseas and renewing acquaintance with his former parishioners. He will be in Canada until Nov. 18 and expects to come to Aurora again before returning overseas.

RECEIVE TROPHY

Major C. E. Reade, M.C. district cadet officer, presented the P.T. cup for the best cadet corps in secondary and private schools in military district No. 2 to St. Andrew's College Cadet Corps on Sunday afternoon following the church parade to Trinity Anglican church.

This was won last spring. The cup was received by L.-Cpl. John Lowndes of Brantford camp, captain of last year's corps, who presented it to Gary Rapmund, captain of the present corps. The trophy was held last year by De La Salle, Oaklands.

Council Takes First Step In Procuring Town Nurse

Aurora town council took the first step Monday night towards having a town nurse. Councillor Dr. Crawford Rose, having acted on instructions given him at the last council meeting, reported on the steps that must be taken in order to secure the services of a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada as a town nurse.

On a motion from Councillor Rose, seconded by Councillor Rod. V. Smith, it was moved that the procedure for obtaining the nurse be followed immediately. The motion was passed unanimously.

Councillor Rose read excerpts from the constitution of the V.O.N., outlining the steps to be taken in securing the nurse. The procedure is:

"Should a community feel the need of a visiting nursing service and request information concerning the work of the V.O.N., the national office will send a representative free or charge to explain the service to those citizens who may be interested.

"If provision of this service is decided upon, a supervising nurse will be sent to the community. She will visit the community leaders—the medical officer of health, the doctors, the directors of organizations that may be able to give assistance, the civic authorities, the executives of welfare and service clubs, the industrial leaders.

"A public meeting will then be held at which organization will be discussed and a provisional committee formed. By-laws and a budget will be drawn up by this committee which will submit them, together with a request for a nurse, to the national office."

A committee meeting is planned for Nov. 20 in accordance with the first step in the above procedure.

On a motion of Reeve C. E. Sparks, seconded by Councillor Thomas Swindle, the resignation of Councillor R. D. Thompson was accepted. Mr. Thompson is in Toronto on business and finds it impossible to attend the council meetings.

Think Collis Refuse Is Damaging Town Plant

Complaints that refuse from Collis Leather Co. was being run through Aurora sewers and contributing to the breakdown of the disposal plant machinery were voiced at Monday night's council meeting.

Reeve C. E. Sparks said that the clarifier at the sewage disposal plant was showing signs of wear. "There is too much strain on the clarifier pushing hair and bits of hide around," he said.

Mayor Roscoe Linton: "We should check the sewer and see what is coming through it. If Collis Leather Co. is putting stuff through the sewer then we should be right on to it."

Reeve Sparks: "There is enough hair to plaster a house down at the disposal plant."

Mayor Linton: "We should get together with the company and see what can be done about it."

William West, manager of the Collis Leather Co., said on Tuesday that the affluent disposal plant, which has been constructed at the plant, was working on trial.

"We have been running the plant spasmodically," he said, "but in every new plant there are adjustments that must be made before the plant will run smoothly. We are making those adjustments now."

DOWN THE CENTRE

Service hockey picture has been cleared a bit with the news from Camp Borden that neither the camp itself nor the Canadian Armored Corps will have a team in the proposed Toronto service league. It was not because the Borden teams feared competition but simply because playing in Toronto brought no enjoyment to the men in camp and enabled only a few fellows to perfect still further their special sports talent. We understand that Toronto R.C.A.F. will not compete and with only district depot and navy left the league seems hardly feasible unless, say, Brantford camp and Newmarket were added. This is not likely to be done however, for M.D. 2 was depending upon both centres for reinforcements for its team.

If M.D. 2 does participate in a league the withdrawal of the armored corps team will eliminate a lot of trouble so far as the Newmarket players who might perform are concerned, as they would be free to play without any embarrassing entanglements. Basic centre players will not be eligible for the Borden team unless they go on to advanced centres.

The T. and S. Wing team which will represent the C.A.C. will compete against medical corps, service corps, Camp H.Q., R.C.O.C., and two infantry centres at Borden and this group will likely present about as good amateur hockey as will be played anywhere.

T. and S. seconds have been added to the C.A.C. group which Newmarket will play in, making it a nice, compact, four-club circuit for the winter with the same play-off rules prevailing as outlined last week. The T. and S. players will not be eligible to play both in Borden and C.A.C. competition.

Goalie Frank Mazza, Red Williams, Red Linton, former Aurora junior last year with No. 1 C.A.C.-T.R., Mike Flanagan and several other well-known performers are looked upon as likely starters for the entry in the local group from T. and S.

Bob Crosby of Timmins, who hails from Uxbridge and played first base for that good Uxbridge team which won the northern half of the tri-county league and then eliminated Aurora, the team which had Dooley Butler, Harry King, Hec. Gordon, Charlie Dales, Slim Brown, Lindsay Robinson, Brother Phillip, Pol. Perkins, Charlie Naughton, Percy Devins and a banker named Kent on their line-up, has been elected secretary of the Northern Ontario hockey association. Bob, who played hockey for Toronto Varsity, is athletic director for McIntyre Mines and succeeds Dunc. Sutherland, veteran northern hockey official and editor of the Haileybury weekly paper, as secretary. He was a standout baseball player over the years in these parts.

Bob Porter, the Paris boy who has played junior A hockey with both Brantford Lions and Oshawa Generals, is located at Orillia camp now and will likely be seen in action for the hockey team of that centre this winter. Orillia has Sgt. Ernie Currans, Cpl. Paul Knowles, former Aurora junior player, among others from last year's team on hand and should do better this year than last. It's a cinch they can't do any worse for they didn't win a game over the entire season.

Saw a picture the other day of Gordy Fanning who played with Aurora Tigers in junior B in 1939-40 and the Willowdale boy has added quite a few pounds of avoirdupois, now weighing a mere 220 pounds as he toils on the gridiron for Vimy Barracks in the Kingston City rugby league. He is a corporal now.

Pepper Martin, ace defenceman of the same Aurora team and probably the greatest all-round athlete ever to perform for St. Andrew's College in recent years, is taking time out from his duties as a naval officer on the high seas to play rugby for the Halifax Navy club as the opportunity presents itself. Pepper, as usual, is doing right well for his team. Halifax Navy may be permitted to challenge for the Canadian football crown this year and they have a strong team including such big name players as Mike Hedgewick, Steve Levantis, Art Upper, Jack Wedley, Scotty Wright and others.

Jack Ballon, another former St. Andrew's footballer, is performing with McGill University in the Quebec senior football league. Ballon was formerly in the navy and in 1943 won the one-mile event at Newmarket camp on July 1.

Gus Saunders of Barrie, who played both junior B and C against Aurora teams a few years back, has received his commission overseas as a pilot officer with the R.C.A.F. Leo Murphy, a big, husky youngster who performed with Markham juniors the year they won the C title and also aided Milton juniors, has been killed in action we learn from Murray Beruton. Murphy's working hours did not enable him to be on hand for every game but he was very effective when he did play.

Goose Hewson, who played junior B for Oshawa again... Aurora and afterwards with Brantford Lions and Army Daggers, has joined Indianapolis Capitols, the Detroit farm club, after failing to make the grade at Owen Sound with the Leafs. Hewson will be remembered by Newmarket baseball fans as catcher of the camp team which won league honors in the last year of town league competition, teaming with Sgt. Earl "Lefty" Newbold to form a crack battery. Bernie LeMaitre of Toronto, who refereed quite a few games in Aurora, Richmond Hill, Newmarket and Markham, is working with the whistle in the American association this season and doing well. LeMaitre wasn't any better than some of the hometown boys but of course an outsider is generally considered to be better than the fellows close to home.

Graham Truesdale is working in home games at Buffalo as a linesman, his war work at the Curtis plant making it impossible for him to get away for outside games only on rare occasions. The former Aurora-Newmarket junior is coaching a couple of teams in Buffalo which will compete in industrial and city hockey.

The Cain brothers have heard the call of the siren and will seek to gain the experience of junior A hockey this winter as members of the Port Colborne club. The scouts from the Port talked hard to papa Cain in Lucknow and we understand the three Chinese lads will attend school at the Port while playing hockey. Glad to see them move as a unit despite the fact one of them is not yet 16. Nels Stewart, former big league hockey star, and Gooney McGowan, for years a standout forward in senior amateur company, are coaching the Port Colborne team and the three boys should benefit greatly with the advantage of such experienced coaching.

Richmond Hill has already organized their "bush league" series for the winter with seven entries in hand. These are Combines, who won out last winter and represented the group in the O.H.A., Richmond Hill, Maple, last year's finalists, Concord, Patterson, Elia and Victory Aircraft. The latter to replace Woodbridge and Concord is a new entry too. The league may be whittled down to six with Combines and the Hill team joining forces.

Ross Follett, Leonard Bhropshire and Shorty Graham are being counted upon by Maple this season.

Douglas Harvey, brilliant young fullback of the Bradford high school soccer team, who has set a particularly fine record the past two years, broke his leg in a game against Lefroy continuation school a few weeks ago. Injuries in high school soccer have not been very frequent, fortunately.

Bill Kettle, a Midland high school boy, last month jumped 21 feet in the running broad jump to win the senior district meet at Orillia and break a 16-year-old district record. This is one of the best distances ever recorded by a high school athlete in Ontario and with proper coaching the Midland youngster can probably do much better. As an illustration of what can happen when the competition is good, in his own school meet, young Mr. Kettle didn't hit 19 feet but "soared through the air with the greatest of ease" when it really counted.

Bill Covert, Bradford, well-known athlete serving with the Canadian army on the east coast, felt homesick the other day. Bill tasted celery in the mess hall and it made him think of celerytown and the Holland Marsh. It was so good he had to find out if any place besides the marsh could grow as fine celery, so he paid a visit to the cookhouse and was agreeably surprised to find the celery had come from Bradford.

Johnny Callanan, hero of many an athletic contest for No. 23 B.T.C., is just about the best all-round athlete ever to hit that centre. Long John plays a game of hockey capable of landing him in minor pro. He was good enough for the Beaches and Davisville circuits in softball, aside from regular army competition, and played swell baseball too. Last winter he played basketball and this year he is again at the court game. Last week the camp basketball team journeyed to Brantford for an exhibition game and took a neat 36-33 victory with

LET'S be quite frank.

When you read—as you probably did during the past few months—that more than 300,000 people in Canada have syphilis, what was your reaction? Did you say, "That's too bad; something should be done about it", and then turn to the comic page? Chances are you did.

But if that article had told you that Tommy Jones, the lad who used to mow your lawn after school, had syphilis—how would you have felt about it? Or that the young couple who built that cute house in the next block, had just lost a baby through syphilis . . . would that have made you stop and think?

Or, if you suddenly discovered that your Mar- - - - . No? That couldn't happen? But it can. And it does . . . to hundreds of Tommies and Marys every year, right here in Canada. Right in your community. You'll never read articles like that, of course, for these are the personal tragedies that people bear in silence.

So, when you pick up the paper sometime and read, " . . . there were 5,000 new VENEREAL DISEASE cases reported in this province last year . . .", remember! These are not cold figures. They represent 5,000 heart-breaking . . . heart-aching situations.

Yes, VENEREAL DISEASE is a serious problem. It's a problem for parents; for taxpayers; for young people on the threshold of life; for everyone.

VENEREAL DISEASE need never strike if we all do our part. If we know the facts. If we use these facts to advantage. If we don't shrug our shoulders and say, "This couldn't happen to anyone in my family."

You have a duty to your family and the community.

LEARN THE FACTS!

Helps Check Colds Quickly

You can often check a cold quickly if you follow these instructions.

Just as soon as you feel the cold coming on and experience headache, pains in the back or limbs, soreness through the body, take a Parodol tablet, a good big drink of hot lemonade or ginger tea and go to bed.

The Paradol affords almost immediate relief from the pains and aches and helps you to get off to sleep. The dose may be repeated, if necessary, according to the directions. If there is soreness of the throat, gargle with two Paradol tablets dissolved in water. Just try Paradol the next time you have a cold and we believe that you will be well pleased. Paradol does not disappoint.

Callanan notching 14 of the winning points to top all scorers. His other activities have kept him out of track but we have a fair idea the smiling Irishman would be pretty good at this too.

Harvey Avison, of hockey and softball fame, is another smart basketeer and Jack Rudderham, ace tosser of the baseball club, goes pretty good too. Newmarket overcame an early Brantford lead and came strong at the finish to take the nod. Grice, a new player to the camp, scored 12 points with Reynett accounting for eight and Rudderham two. Robertson, who was the star of last year's Newmarket cage team, is located at No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. and in early season practice is going great guns.

Lieut. Al McLeod, who is at present playing for Newmarket, was a member of the No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. team which won the Camp Borden championship last spring. He formerly played for Mount Allison University, N.B., Basketball in the C.A.C. league will get underway early in December and should attract big crowds.

Last week we mentioned that Bill Cupolo of the present Bruins team had been a T.B. victim and had conquered it with months in bed and rest. Since then we learn Manager Art Ross of the Boston club financed the cure. Now we learn that Chuck Scherza of the Rangers once suffered from lung trouble too and is playing with one lung. Judging by his play to date and his pronounced speed it makes little difference but it is an unusual occurrence and does call for a fighting heart. Scherza once played with Oshawa Generals.

Commenting on the Newmarket-Brantford game, Al Rose of the Brantford Expositor says "the fast break down the floor by the Newmarkets was the reason for their win, while they got used to the floor and the baskets in the second half. It might be said the winners had more stamina, although shooting was the big reason for the three-point margin. Brantford's shooting, especially from the sides, can be improved. It was a smart game, well played for an initial encounter."

Harvey Avison, who hails from Brantford, comes in for some well-merited praise. "He was a tower of strength on defence. Howie has come a long way since donning the khaki. He seems to have more desire to get in and mix things and while he obtained four penalties, his checking was a big factor."

New rule for the cage game this season allows five personal fouls in place of the usual four. A player will go out of the game for five fouls in place of four. We think this is a move in the right direction.

Bill Hadfield, who was always pretty handy with his dooks and won the army middleweight title overseas after leaving Aurora, is stationed with an ordnance workshop near Antwerp, Belgium, and in a recent letter home intimates that he expects to don the gloves again and do a little more boxing, which will be good news for his many friends in the Aurora district. Another former district athlete who is with the Canadian troops in Belgium is Jess Turton who guarded the nets for Schomberg hockeyists for several seasons and was a favorite with all. Turton is a corporal and has been overseas for two years. In a letter home he pretty well expresses the wishes of all our lads over there. "Today I am in Belgium, perhaps tomorrow in Berlin, the next day following, home. Perhaps, or do you think I would be lucky enough to realize my dream?"

Softball has always found us picking out all-star teams at the close of the year and although the season has been over a couple of weeks or so we have arrived at an analysis. We had Lieut. Bob Kennedy, Newmarket; Lieut. Bert McComiskey, C.A.C. sports officer; Lieut. Tony Teoli, No. 1; Sgt. Bob Peters, No. 3; Lieut. Andy Tommy, T. and S., and Lieut. Rimmer, sports officer at No. 2, make their choices along with our own, and then we tabulated the results. We allowed two points for the first team and one point for the second team. Lieut. Kennedy only picked one team but none of the boys from No. 23 suffered any by the omission. The results take the whole year into consideration and the positions some of the boys were playing at the beginning of the year are not those they ultimately wound up in.

Catching, we thought, was generally the weakest spot in the circuit. Frank McGee of No. 2 won the first spot with Sammy Hayward of Newmarket second. Hayward showed great improvement towards the end of the season. Chow Thorne of No. 2 won the first team pitching berth by one vote over Ernie Clarke of No. 3. Clarke was the better of the two in our opinion as Thorne suffered from temperament but Clarke left for overseas before the play-offs and so suffered in the voting. Jack Moon of Newmarket received honorable mention. Lefty Finnemore of T. and S. Wing was close behind Thorne and Clarke in the voting. Thorne was one of the longest ball hitters in the league. Jimmy Fennell of Newmarket was the choice for first base with Hank Mocom of No. 2 and Johnny Rhodes of No. 3 tied one vote behind. Fennell came with a rush at the end. First base lacked a really standout player. Bernie Gantner of Newmarket took second base with Frank Ross of No. 2 close at his heels. We have always admired Gantner's ability but we personally thought Ross a better performer, in fact perhaps the best individual ball player in the league. He was out of the game in most of the play-offs. Gantner, like Fennell, saved his best performances for the end of the year.

Bill Paisley of Newmarket took shortstop by one vote over Nip Spooner of No. 2. Paisley was a little faster than the veteran Spooner, who may be at Newmarket camp come hockey time. Andy Tommy, great backfield star of Ottawa Roughriders and a real all-round athlete, got third base over Walt Clarke of No. 3. Andy is a power hitter and has all kinds of fight. Johnny Callanan of Newmarket was the unanimous choice for an outfield position of all but one selector. Callanan's play speaks for itself. We thought his play at short was exceptionally good.

Tommy Dalgneau of No. 3 and Tommy Gaudet of No. 1 were the other first team men and no one can radically quarrel about that. They are all plenty good. Tommy Jamieson of Newmarket along with George Ellis and French Renaud of No. 2 were the second team outergardeners. Jamieson, who didn't play until the end of the year, missed the first team because of this fact. Chips Cipparone was chosen as the most versatile player. Cipparone, by choice a catcher and in our opinion the best in the league, only played one game there as No. 3 needed him elsewhere. So he played the infield, outfield or pitched as the occasion demanded and all equally well.

Clair Exelby, who did everything but pitch for the No. 23 team, while not as good as in other years, displayed plenty of versatility and could not be denied a place. The selectors were by no means one-sided in their choices and spread their votes evenly. No. 2 for instance didn't give Ross either a first or second team vote, whereas if he had received a first team vote it would have put Gantner second. Hugo Kuigeimas, hard-hitting Newmarket outfielder, was the only other Newmarket player to get a vote besides those we have mentioned. On the whole we are satisfied with the choices and we believe the fans and players will be too.

The Newmarket team received a beautiful three-tier trophy and C.A.C. championship crests for their efforts as well as chits on their own canteen. We understand windbreakers may be in the offing too but at any rate a bang-up party to outdo even last winter's hockey party is being talked about. The boys are deserving of a final spread and officials at the camp in the past have always looked after the teams pretty well.

As we write "30" for this week we want to remind you that if you haven't bought that Victory Bond do so now. It's both the patriotic and sporting thing to do and your municipality needs your support to put them over the top. You're part of a great team moving towards victory. Don't falter now.
